The term ‘vicinity’ is used in the Licensing Act 2003, in particular with reference to those ‘interested parties’ (see definition in guidance attached) who may lodge objections to applications for premises licences and who may make representations concerning existing premises licences. The Act does not define the term ‘vicinity’ but its ordinary meaning is ‘near to’.

If the licensing authority considers that relevant representations are made the licensing section may consider arranging a mediation meeting between the relevant parties (if all agree) to try and reach a settlement. If this informal process is unsuccessful a hearing before the Licensing [Sub-] Committee will follow, unless the interested parties withdraw their representations.

All representations in their entirety, including your name and address will be disclosed to the applicant for the premises licence and the members of the [Sub-] Committee, so that they can make an informed decision on the application.

I do/ do not* object to my name and address being made public in the report to the [Sub-] Committee.
